Weekend Busy For City Police

Cameron City Jail was "full up" Friday and Saturday nights and Police Chief John Shearin said those nights were the "busiest" since he took office.

Arrests in connection with fights and drunkenness jailed 12 Friday night and nine Saturday night, he said.

The biggest commotion was out at Wilson-Ledbetter Park Friday night, when six men tangled in a fight that resulted in one pistol wound and numerous knife cuts.

Chief Shearin said the men apparently went to the park after leaving a local bar.

A charge of aggravated assault was filed in County Court against Lupe Corona, and a charge of carrying an illegal weapon was filed in County Court against Tommy Corona.

Charged in City Court with simple assault were Rigo Valdez and two men, both named Damon Corona, Willie Alvarez, the sixth man involved, was charged in City Court with drunkenness.

Tommy Corona was shot in the right shoulder by a .22 pistol and was treated and released from a Temple hospital. Other injuries reported were knife cuts on several of the men but none required hospitalization.

On the traffic scene, several fender-benders were reported but no injuries.

Harbers To Lead Yoe High Band

Dalton Harbers, former Lexington school band director, has been named director of the Yoe High School Band for the coming school year.

Harbers, 34, has been band director at Lexington schools for the past six years.

Prior to his teaching career he played in several nationally known bands including the United States Army Field Band of Washington, D.C., the representative band of the U. S. Infantry. He is an accomplished trumpet and euphonium player.

A native of Nordheim, Harbers is a graduate of Nordheim High School and a 1958 graduate of Southwest Texas State University with a degree in music.

Harbers, his wife Estelle, and 16-month-old son David plan to move to Cameron within the next few weeks and will live at 405 East 9th Street.

The new director plans to start summer band rehearsals on August 3.

Harbers succeeds Bob Carney, former Yoe Band director for about two years, who resigned at the end of the 1970 school year to enter the ministry.

Lions Cite Smitherman

Eugene Smitherman was named "outstanding Lion" at the Noon Lions Monday meeting and outgoing president James Camp handed his gavel to Bernay Dusek, 1970-71 president of the local civic club.

Camp also received a plaque in recognition of his leadership. Other new officers installed during the meeting include Smitherman, first vice president; Dr. John Martin, second vice president; Bill Watkins, third vice president; and Jim Bledsoe, secretary-treasurer.

John Henderson, Jr., is tall twister and Herbert Nance is lion tamer. Delbert Burlison will be director for the Lions Crippled Childrens Camp.

Second year directors are Alvis Coleman and Grover McCullin; first year directors, George Jones and Ed Magre.

H. N. IVEY

IVEY TO HEAD LOCAL ROTARY

New officers for Cameron Rotary Club will officially begin their duties on July 1, with Henry N. Ivey as president.

Other officers and directors for 1970-71 include Guss Elley, vice president; Wirt Skinner, secretary; and directors, Calvin Cobb, O. B. Harden, Henry Litzman, and Wayne Mann.

ADULT SERIES MEETS

Forrest Sapp will speak on insurance at the adult information class to be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday (tonight) at the Cameron Grove Baptist Church. The series is sponsored by the Methodist Church Couples Class.

$4 Million Marked For Construction

The House Appropriations Committee on Friday approved $4 million for construction of the San Gabriel project.

In a telegram to Col. Walter J. Wells, general manager of the Brazos River Authority, Cong. J. Pickle notified BRA of approval of the funds for the construction of dams and reservoirs on the San Gabriel River.

Actual construction awaits full Congressional approval of the funds.

Plans of the Corps of Army Engineers call for construction of three reservoirs--the largest, Lanepot, to be located on the San Gabriel, about 32 miles from the confluence of the North and South Forks of the river near Georgetown.

Lanepot is about 20 miles southwest of Cameron. Reservoirs are planned on both North and South Forks of the San Gabriel.

A spokesman at Wells' office in Waco said the project timetable calls for "immediate and simultaneous construction" of the Lanepot and North Fork reservoirs, following final authorization of project funds.

South Fork reservoir is unscheduled for a future date, the spokesman said.

At flood-control pool, Lanepot will have an area of about 11,000 acres, North Fork reservoir will have an area of 3,220 acres at flood-control pool.

With F.M.L.

Wife Jan came into the room one day this week and read what is purported to be a humorous horoscope for people born under my sign, Cancer:

"Congratulations. All your work is about to be rewarded with your first ulcer."

What, indeed, makes all these "Sammies" run in the megapolis? One is impressed of a discontent which pace only irritates. A real smile comes hard unless there is a little liquid levity to wash it loose.

You can be happy, dear reader, that small towns somehow survive this late in the 20th Century, and that urban spread has some place like Cameron, a modern Cameron to go to.

Only answer to that, if it happens, is: I'm modern, Forlorn, worn, but modern? (Casey Stengel and Arnold Toynbee answer questions with questions.)

That's really why I grew a mustache, to hide the snarl of a curled lip. And the sideburns are to accentuate ears convoluting into lengthening earlobes. Did you know your ears keep growing?

Beneath the Ranger mustache (hippie is out of style, too many uncertainties) spreads a grin, rather than grimace, a straight line of determination, fronting on a brainload of idioms, questions and sentence diagrams.

The mien of a newspaperman these days is about as scrutable as the computerization of newspapers, which is a present project here, as well as screening various viewpoints on such things as a uniform probate code, the Texas Penal Code, open meetings laws and a few other diverse bits of tedium which seem small in print but large in effect on future citizens.

Visiting in Houston the past weekend, we observed the incredible rise of buildings and binding traffic, wondering, like the song says: "Is That All There Is?"

The pace reminds of an excellent television scenario of a few years ago about a guy who rose in the ranks of moviedom, entitled: "What Makes Sammy Run?"

Next thing you know someone will be predicting the end of Vietnam hostilities when Hanoi decides a peace overture is the thing. Everything else has happened in the past 10 years. Why not a bid for peace, which everybody hopes and really fails of belief to see? Seriously, it is a possibility in the next six months.

Then all the boys can come home to join this upward progression to good life in the city, remarkably progressive and expansive, but a dent on patience power.

Yes, there is some clod under the face hair of everyone. But most Texans aren't so different, only a generation from the small town and farm.

The megapolis builders moved in from somewhere else and somewhere else meant for many of them a narrow road back into agrarian simplicity, a place that is disappearing as the towers rise in the city.

We are a simple folk, we moderns, only our adornment doesn't admit it. And the momentum of metro life reaches into the small town and yanks you, teeth and all, into the crunch of ideas and power, testing your clout (that means influence) until your wife walks into a room back home and reads, joshing (?), your horoscope.

Service For W. Tucker

Walter L. Tucker, 80, died early Monday morning in a Cameron hospital. He was born August 31, 1889 at Thorndale.

Mr. Tucker was a retired railroad employee.

Funeral service was held at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at Marek-Burns Funeral Home, the Rev. Don Duval officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

He is survived by eight sons, Howard Tucker, Rufus Tucker, Preston Tucker, Bowie Tucker, Ray Tucker, Murrell Tucker, and James Tucker, all of Cameron, Johnnie Tucker of End, Okla., Leon Tucker of Baytown; three daughters, Mrs. Sudie Cass, Mrs. Verlie Ashley of Milano, Mrs. Mary Ruth Ybiral of Bryan; one brother, Sammie L. Tucker of Temple; two sisters, Mrs. Alfred Wilson of Temple, Mrs. Tom Caffey of Waco; 20 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Social Security Roll On Increase

On January 1, 1970 there were 4130 social security beneficiaries in Milam County receiving $3,767,400 yearly, Jack Calvert, district manager of the Temple Social Security Office, reported today. This represents 21.1 percent of the county population.

In the six counties served by the Temple district office, there were 22,997 persons receiving $20,714,400 yearly in social security benefits. These benefit amounts include the fifteen percent increase voted by Congress last year and signed into law by President Nixon on December 30, 1969.

The six counties served by the Temple social security district office are Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, Milam and San Saba.

Of the total number of social security beneficiaries living in Milam County, 2081 are retired workers and their dependents. There are 865 receiving benefits as survivors of workers who have died, and the balance are getting benefits as disabled workers or as dependents of disabled workers.

Other counties in the district showed a similar percentage of social security beneficiaries with the exception of Bell and Coryell.

Hamilton with a population of 7,132 (preliminary 1970 census) showed 2,074 (29.1 percent) receiving social security payments of $1,959,600, annually.

Lampasas County, population 9,140, listed 1,992 receiving monthly benefits (21.8 percent) totaling $1,904,400 annually.

San Saba County, population 5,437, listed 24.9 percent of the county population as receiving $1,297,200 annually in social security payments.

Coryell County had the lowest percentage of Social Security beneficiaries in the district, 8.7 percent of the 34,761 population. Bell County with a population of 117,242 showed 8.9 percent of the county population receiving $8,970,600 annually. One explanation for the low figures in Bell County is the large number of retired service personnel who receive Army retirement in place of Social Security.

Calvert pointed out that although the majority of social security beneficiaries are older people over age 60, about one in every four is under age 60. In the six-county area served by the Temple district office, 78.5% are over age 60 and the remaining 21.5% are under age 60.

In Texas there are 1,220,976 social security beneficiaries receiving $1,284,918,000 yearly. And in the U.S. there are 25,313,807 beneficiaries getting $29,811,282,096 yearly.

Boys in the Cameron Summer Baseball Program received new uniforms this week, purchased through a community fund raising effort that included a jumble sale, bake sales, flag sales and individual contributions.

A Surprise Supper at Methodist Fellowship Hall Saturday, 5:30 to 8 p.m., will be an effort to complete payment for the 190 grey striped baseball suits.

Week's play for the two young leagues was:

INDIANS-YANKEES

The Indians nudged out the Yankees for lead position in Little League Tuesday with a 7 to 6 score.

Winning pitcher for the Indians was Dale Mueck. Catcher was Phil McCall.

Joe Smitherman was pitcher for the Yankees and Nathan Kimbrel was catcher.

The Indians came into Tuesday's game with 4 wins to their credit, one on a forfeit by the White Sox Thursday night. Both teams had lost only one game.

The Yankees took the lead in the 1st inning with 4 runs, scored by Burton, Kimbrel, Steve Lewis and Smitherman. Two runs were brought in by Indians Phil McCall and Dennis Hollas.

In the 3rd inning the Indians jumped ahead with 4 runs brought in by Mikulec, McCall, Mueck and Hollas. The Yankees countered with a run by Smitherman in the 3rd and Haag in the 4th. Indians' Randy Chamberlain completed a double play in the 4th to end the inning for the Yankees with a score tied at 6-6.

Winning run for the Indians was scored by Chamberlain in the 6th inning. The Yankees got three men on base in the last half of the 6th, but failed to score.

YANKEES-CARDINALS

The Yankees downed the Cardinals 4 to 3 Friday night at Little League Ball Park with pitcher Joe Smitherman credited with the win, Nathan Kimbrel was catcher for the Yankees, Pitcher for the Cardinals was Mondrik, catcher was Jones.

Mondrik scored the first run for the Cardinals, a homer in the first inning. Jones scored in the 4th inning and Mondrik scored again in the 6th.

Runs were scored for the Yankees by Kimbrel, Lewis, and Smitherman.

BEARS-COLTS

The Bears scored their first win in the 1970 Little League season Monday night, defeating the Colts 3 to 0. Scott was winning pitcher and Zavodny was winning catcher.

Trubee, Rummel and Scott scored runs for the bears. Vargas pitched for the Colts and catcher was Michalka.

MINOR LEAGUE

The Minor League Lions will meet the White Sox tonight at 6:30 p.m., Little League Ball Park, to decide the mid-season league lead. Both teams have 4 wins, the Lions have two defeats on their scoreboard and the White Sox have one, to the Lions in a previous meeting.

Winning run for the Indians was scored by Chamberlain in the 6th inning. The Yankees got three men on base in the last half of the 6th, but failed to score.

YANKEES-LIONS

The Yankees scored their second win over the league leading Lions Monday night with a score of 6 to 2. Winning pitcher was Steve Hollas, catcher was R. Ruzicka.

The Yankees marked up 4 runs in the 1st inning by Sapp, Tindall, Hollas and Hoag, a homerun by Hollas in the 2nd and a score by Sheldner in the 3rd.

Jimmy Horton hit a triple in the 4th for the Lions and scored on a homerun by Joe Porubsky.

Glenn Glaser was starting pitcher for the Lions, replaced by Jimmy Horton, Darrel Vybiral was catcher.

HUSTLERS-GIANTS

The Hustlers came through with a 6-2 win over the Giants Tuesday night after a scoreless first and second inning. Winning pitcher for the Hustlers was Dan Garcia, catcher was John Moseley.

Runs were scored for the Hustlers by David Raymond (2), Matula, Moseley, Garcia and David Krenek.

Runs were scored for the Giants by Tommy Michalka and Jed Rowe. Pitcher for the Giants was Tom Williams, catcher was Mike Marek.

LOOKS LIKE A FIT Kevin Simmons tells White Sox teammates Steve and Gary Vrazel (above) as the boys are issued new uniforms Tuesday night. Even waiting on the bench is better when you are wearing an official baseball uniform say Hustlers Mark Scott, Nathan Kimbrel (batboy for the Minor League game), Arthur Montez, Roger Braden, and Fouché Kennedy.

Mountain Magic Scout Is Appalachia Bound

Kathryn Kahler is going to the mountains this summer. She is one of 170 Girl Scouts chosen to take part in "Mountain Magic", a national two-week scouting event sponsored by the Appalachian Girl Scout Council.

The event will take place July 7-23 in the mountains of East Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia.

Miss Kahler, a Senior Girl Scout, is a member of Lone Star Girl Scout Council. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Kahler of Cameron.

Participants represent 126 councils. They will live in dormitories on the campus of Virginia Intermont College in Bristol, Virginia, attend workshops, take field trips and have entertainment indigenous to the area. Purpose of the event is to give Girl Scouts from other sections of the country an opportunity to learn about the history and culture of the Appalachian Mountains and their people.

The visitors' itinerary will include workshops in candlemaking, weaving, spinning and basketmaking using dried honey-suckle vines. They will be taught to make dolls from cornhusks like those tiny settlers played with long ago.

Field trips will be taken to the Craftsman's Fair in Asheville, North Carolina, and to Cade's Cove, last authentic settlement of the mountain people. The visiting Girl Scouts will also visit the Barter Theatre in Abingdon, Virginia, where farm produce and other goods were once bartered for entry to the theatre. Before the two weeks is over, the visitors will be familiar with the sound of both the dulcimer and banjo in renditions of toe-tapping folk music. They will have found the magic of the mountains.

When Girl Scouts gather for an event of this type, they take "swaps", items typical of their home area, to exchange with each other. Kathryn is taking Texas key chains which she made, vials of oil and its history supplied by A. W. McCullin, Sr. from the Minerva oil well, small bags of cotton seed supplied by Calvin Cobb, and some brochures of Texas wildflowers secured with the assistance of Rep. Dan Ku-biak.

She will also take along a small branding iron and some leather to show the girls how Texans brand cattle.

'England Swings'

If some songwriter in Merry Ol' England would pen a modern lyric, it might start out:

"Polls and polls and polls are taken, and rolls and rolls and rolls of votes are break-in'. And the polls are proven wrong."

All but one pre-election sampling went awry as Conservatives won over incumbent Labor's Harold Wilson. Edward Heath is new prime minister.

This is considered the biggest defeat of polls, not politicians since President Harry Truman whisked past New York's Thomas Dewey in 1948, even after one Midwest newspaper had touted Truman's defeat, based on early returns.

It might also be considered a further move to the center of Western politics since 1968. Elections in Finland, some states of West Germany, the United States and now England show a move away from leftist leaning.

Willie Brandt's election in Germany involved a coalition with more conservative elements of West German politics.

Polls can play a reverse role in an election. It is suggested the optimistic prediction of a Labor victory in England prior to the election may have caused a falloff of Labor support and a corresponding increase in Conservative effort.

Harry Truman "gave 'em hell" in 1948 to discredit all the polls in his election morning victory. A magazine predicted Alf Landon's win over Franklin Roosevelt in 1936 and went out of business by its miscalculation of Roosevelt's sweep.

The lesson is that polls are handy indicators of opinion at a given time. Properly posed, poll questions are most often right, except when whims of change follow voters even into the voting booth.

The final poll is taken there. And "England swings" to the right.

Major Remodeling Due For State Capitol Interior

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — A massive emigration from the state capitol, followed by a major overhaul and interior remodeling of the historic building, is about to get under way.

Unfortunately, the big reshuffle will take place at the peak of the tourist season, so visitors may be dodging carpenters, painters and movers for awhile. Soon after July 1, the new $6.6 million State Finance Building will be ready for occupancy. Employees of the State Treasurer and Comptroller will move immediately from their capitol quarters into the state's largest office facility.

As the finance departments vacate their space in the capitol, remodeling contractors will move in to re-do their quarters. Between late July and next January when the Legislature convenes, office space for all 150 state representatives, enlarged quarters for many state senators and new committee rooms hopefully will have been built into the vacated space.

A $1.5 million appropriation was set aside by the Legislature last year for the renovation and a new elevator already is being drilled through the northern end of the capitol.

A painting contractor also is at work on the Senate chamber (a $32,850 face-lifting job), and approximately $40,000 more will be spent on 1,200 yards of new green carpet for the senators' floor.

A model committee room is among the Senate's plans. It will include a raised dais for members, individual microphones and theater seating. Senators expect to gain two or three other committee rooms.

Those who will stay in the capitol aren't too happy about the branch postoffice moving to the new finance building, but they are assured removal of a lot of temporary, makeshift structures in hallways will restore much of the old building's original basic architecture and dignity.

PENAL LAWS

Texas' 1856 "frontier" penal code is being rewritten by a State Bar Committee for submission to the Legislature. Major overhaul would eliminate duplicate articles covering the same crime and overlaps.

Proposals further seek to weed out so-called "unenforceable" laws including those against sexual acts between consenting adults. A strong new paternity law is recommended to identify fathers of illegitimate children and make them responsible for financial support.

Bar's draft would leave sentencing of convicted persons to judges instead of juries except in cases where the death penalty is involved. But it would permit judges to refuse to impose the death penalty though assessed by jurors.

Instead of general sentences for crimes, the revision would substitute four degrees of felony and three of misdemeanors, leaving prison terms to be fixed according to the specific nature of the offense and circumstances.

Code redraft also would make corporations criminally liable (as in pollution cases), establish a general trespass article (covering such offenses as college disruption) and define prohibited conduct short of completed crime.

University of Texas Law School Dean Page Keeton said the code, if adopted, would be the "best in the nation."

GALVESTON ISLAND PARK

State closed its deal to buy the 1,781-acre Maco Stewart Ranch on Galveston Island for a seashore park, paying $890,875 (half to be reimbursed by the federal government).

Actually, Maco Stewart Jr. willed the land to the state in 1950 pending continued use by his heirs for their lifetimes. Parks and Wildlife Commission agreed to pay three heirs $500 an acre so full title could be obtained immediately.

First development will be on the Gulf beach side, although no date has been set for opening. Galveston County clerk's office will conduct purchasing details.

COURTS SPEAK

U.S. Supreme Court has held in a Maryland case that voting in state and local elections cannot be denied persons living on federal installations. Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr.'s office says the ruling will effect some areas of Texas.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin plans to appeal the decision of U.S. District Judge Reynaldo Garza in Brownsville, taking jurisdiction of Platoro Ltd.'s case demanding the state return the treasure it recovered from an ancient Padre Island shipwreck. Garza accepted the suit as a salvage case.

Federal jury in Abilene found that the Abilene School Board did not act arbitrarily in giving unexcused absences to 300 Mexican-American pupils who boycotted classes for 10 days last fall.

LEASE SALE SET

Second oil and gas and sulphur lease sale of 1970 will be held here at 10 a.m., August 4, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler announced.

Two hundred and four tracts will be offered in the Gulf of Mexico, sixty-four in uplands and riverbeds.

Twelve further tracts are located in far West Texas. Minimum bonus is $25 an acre ($20 for uplands and riverbeds), delay rental $4 a year, royalty of one-sixth and primary term of five years.

NURSING HOME RULES

Public Welfare Department sent 800 to 900 nursing homes regulations implementing new rates they can collect from the state and federal government and supplements collectible from patients' families.

"Skilled" care homes will get a raise from $360 to $381 a month, with no supplement. Intermediate Care III facilities will be cut from $300 to $294 and ICF II homes from $210 to $198, but the latter two groups can collect family supplements of $25 a patient.

Welfare Department served notice, however, that it will not serve as a collection agency, and homes cannot deny care to any patient for lack of a supplement. Supplement cannot be collected from patient's assistance checks.

SAFETY DEVICE REQUIRED

Railroad Commission ordered all flowing wells in bays, estuaries, lakes, rivers or streams to be equipped with "storm chokes" or similar equipment to prevent pollution spills.

Rule goes into effect October 1 and is aimed at preventing disasters like the Chevron well spill of Louisiana. Commission also adopted a form to be used by oil companies in reporting immediately (by telephone or telegram) all spills of as much as five barrels.

Ag Man-Hours

U.S. farm labor to produce food and fiber required 7 billion man-hours. Of this, 37 percent is devoted to livestock production, according to the most recent figures available.

Growing Convenience

Convenience food store locations grew in number at a rate of 31% during the past year. They total 16,498 with total store sales at $2.8 billion.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I'd pulled off the side of my tractor earlier in the day after it was blown there by a warm summer breeze -- I've always said if you leave a tractor standing in one spot long enough it'll pay off, how many newspapers have you seen a moving tractor catch? -- the mayors of most of the big cities of the nation met in a convention the other day and nearly every one of them reported the same thing: they're out of money.

"The cities are simply out of cash," they said, "and if we don't get help we face bankruptcy."

The answer, they said, was for Washington to spend less on the military, big highways and farm subsidies and give the difference to the cities.

Since Washington knows all cities want military protection, that every one of them wants more highways leading into them, and that farm subsidies are being cut anyway, the answer may not lie with Washington. The mayors, in fact, are behind the times. They do not see the trend of civilization.

I'll explain. When the first glimmering upsurge of civilization in this country began, a man in trouble had to look mostly to himself. Then as more people moved in he could look to his neighbor, then to the court house, then to the state capital, and finally to Washington.

Now everybody is looking to Washington so much Washington has to look the other way.

But which way? Obviously what Washington needs is some place definite to look itself, and right there is where I have a solution to offer.

What everybody needs is a world capital where we all can look when we're out of money. The mayors ought to realize that when their citizens turn to them and they turn to Washington, Washington's got to have some place to turn also.

I don't know where to put this world capital, probably on some island as we sure don't want it around here. Not in Cameron. How would you feel if all the big city mayors threw up their hands and said the job of was too big for them and Washington has got to help, and Washington in turn threw up its hands and said it was too big for it and it guessed it would have to look to Cameron?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Step In The Dark

Frank, visiting at a suburban home, went to look for the bathroom. He opened a door, encountered total darkness, took one bold step forward, and toppled down the stairway to the basement.

Could Frank hold the home owner legally liable for his accident? A court said he could not, because he had no one to blame but himself.

"Darkness," said the court, "constitutes a warning to proceed either with extreme caution or not at all."

A step in the dark is, all too often, a step in the wrong direction. Literally thousands of accident victims, seeking to recover damages, have found their rights impaired by their own failure to heed the warning that darkness gives.

True, there may be extenuating circumstances. In one case, a shopper was held not negligent for having ventured into a dark storeroom, after a clerk had assured her it was all right to go there.

In another case a member of a lodge, coming to the locker room, found it in darkness. He stepped inside to reach for the light switch. But as he did so, he stumbled over a bench that someone had left in the aisle.

Again, a court found the man not negligent, since he had done the natural thing under the circumstances. The court pointed out that he had no reason to expect an obstacle where, in his past experience, there had always been an open space.

However, even if you are justified in stepping into a dark place, you should still use reasonable ingenuity to cut your risk to a minimum. For example, it may be negligent in the eyes of the law for you to fail to use matches if you happen to have them in your pocket.

One man who fell down an elevator shaft in a dark warehouse was held negligent because he had forgotten to use the cigarette lighter he was carrying. The court commented:

"The parental precept, 'Look where you are going,' is a sound statement of conduct which has become crystallized into a rule of law."

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

Letters to the Editor

June 21, 1970

Dear Editor,

Can this really be true? Can a group of men elected to their positions to enact important issues concerning the betterment of education in the Cameron Independent School District be so petty?

After all, there have been so many "riots, murders, and other disturbing incidents," led by Wirt Skinner, of course, which really need their attention. It should be noted at this time that Rev. Skinner was seen in the presence of six young men who, instead of violently reacting to the issue of hair length, went through the proper channels in an attempt to have their cause discussed. If this man who encourages young people to show an active interest, and to participate in the local school government is what is called a "troublemaker," let us have a score of men like him to make more "trouble."

"Maybe there ought to be a Board policy" which excommunicates entirely any member of the student body who in any way shows his hatred for war and violence, or who show an opinion contrary to that offered by Cameron's School Board. Also included in this policy should be a provision which states that any member of the student body who wears a black armband to school should not be permitted to be "named" valedictorian, whether his grades are indicative of this or not.

I close by saying that there is much need for reform in our local school government. This fact is clearly indicated by the article concerning the school board on the front page of the June 15, 1970 issue of the Cameron Herald.

LONE EAGLE TO BE LEGAL EAGLE

Senator Fred R. Harris (Okla.) "... One of the most exciting and most useful programs having to do with American Indians that I have come in contact with is the special scholarship program in law for American Indians, sponsored by the University of New Mexico School of Law. "This program, now in its fourth year, encourages American Indians to attend law school and assists them during their law school careers. Students taking part in this program are presently enrolled in 24 different universities.

"Perhaps no training or field of education is of greater importance to American Indians who want to assist in the cause of the American Indian, Eskimo, and Aleut, than is preparation for a legal career. For the fourth year the University of New Mexico School of Law will offer a Special Scholarship Program in Law for American Indians. The purpose of the program is to encourage American Indians to attend law school and to assist them during their law school career.

Forty-one of the students who attended the summer program in one of the past three years are presently in law school as regular students. They are enrolled in 24 different universities: HARVARD, YALE, NOTRE DAME, U of New Mexico, ARIZONA STATE U, UCLA, U of NORTH DAKOTA, U of TULSA, U of

WASHINGTON, U of IOWA, U of CALIFORNIA at Davis, NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL U, LOYOLA of Los Angeles, U of UTAH, STANFORD, U of CHICAGO, U of OKLAHOMA, U of COLORADO, U of DENVER, U of MONTANA, U of TENNESSEE, and the U of ARIZONA.

For the academic year, the living expense stipend will be based upon need but will not exceed $2400 for a single student. Allowance for each dependent will not exceed $500. THUS, A MARRIED STUDENT WITH 3 CHILDREN WOULD BE ELIGIBLE FOR UP TO $4400 FOR LIVING EXPENSES DURING THE ACADEMIC YEAR.

Many Anglo and Spanish-speaking lawyers now attempt in good faith to represent American Indians in tribal and personal matters. The vast difference between cultures, however, makes meaningful representation often difficult and in many cases impossible.

The Summer Pre-Law Session for American Indians, held at the University of New Mexico for eight weeks last summer, is a special attempt to break existing educational cycles and introduce more Indians into the legal profession.

Information about the Law School Admission Test can be obtained at most college placement offices.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Like the six-shooter of the old west, knowledge of the law is a great equalizer. The Indian warpath today doesn't lead to the beleaguered wagon train, it leads to the court room.—J.C.

In selecting days to honor nations at Expo 70 in Osaka, Japanese officials have decreed that the United States National Day in 1970 -- at least at the fair -- shall be July 3.

Muslim mathematicians used the cipher, or zero, 200 years before it appeared in 12th-century Europe, the National Geographic Society says.

Final Check Under Way For Census

One of the final steps in the 1970 census in rural and small city areas of the southern States -- a check by mailmen -- is now under way, according to the U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census.

This is the procedure: When census district officials check their preliminary counts, they turned over to the post office a set of white cards listing every address canvassed. The mailmen in turn, check these addresses against the households on their routes. If the mailman discovers what he considers a "missed" address, he fills out a blue card noting this fact. The blue cards are referred to the Census Bureau, which will check them against the census records. The Census Bureau has found from experience that many households for which such cards are filled out have already been enumerated. This can happen for a number of reasons. For instance, some people get mail at two or more addresses, or there may be differences in the way a rural address is described. The Census Bureau will check the blue cards turned in by mailmen and then take appropriate steps to provide a complete census count.

COLOR TELEVISION

A Federal Trade Commission pamphlet advises viewers to follow these precautions -- never view the set from closer than 6 to 10 feet; do not linger near the sides or back while the set is on; do not allow children to play on the sides, back or under the set. X-rays are emitted from every surface of a color TV set. And have sets repaired by competent servicemen. Good idea to ask whether adjustments made will have any effect on X-ray emissions.

FORAGE TEST CHANGES

Effective July 1, the Texas A&M University Forage Testing Service is making changes in the forage testing procedures in order to give a more accurate analysis of a forage's nutritive value. Reports A. C. Novosad, Extension pasture specialist. Local county agents have the details.

What's right about America?

Today, the surest means of a book becoming a best seller is for the author to highlight and denounce bitterly the faults of this country. The same can be said of television and the movies, which prefer in these modern days to depict the seamy side of life in America.

But there's hope. As I have moved across this state, I have sensed that our people are growing weary of gloom. It's becoming easier to strike up a conversation on what's right about America.

I always suggest that there are a lot more level heads in this country than we are sometimes led to believe. There are a lot more decent, law-abiding citizens than there are criminals and cheats and sharks. There are a lot more young people in the "now" generation who want to improve America than the handful of radicals who want to burn it to ashes and start all over.

I can understand why the "majority" has broken its "silence." There's a growing impatience with agitation and controversy. But I feel we should continue to approach our nation's problems with a cool head and an open mind. I've listened to the voices of dissent. I think I know what they're asking of their government.

One thing they want is confidence. They want the assurance that their public officials have the courage to meet the issues of the 1970s with imagination and integrity, and not with some form of "old politics" that thrashes around with problems but never quite locates the workable solutions.

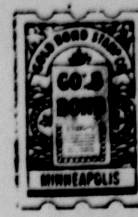

It was my desire to answer this urgent need that prompted me in January to seek the office of United States Senator.

Self-Applicator Bags Can Control Cattle Horn Flies

COLLEGE STATION
Beef and dairy cattle, including lactating cows, can treat themselves with safe, approved insecticides to control the troublesome horn flies that attack during warm weather.

All that is needed, advises Extension Entomologist Weldon Newton, is a self-applicator bag properly stocked with dust containing either three percent Clo-drin or a one percent couma-phos (Co-Ral) and located so the cattle will contact the bag as they go about their daily routine.

For dairy cattle, the most convenient location for the dustbag is in the exit chute leading from the milking parlor.

For beef cattle, it may be located in the gateway to a fenced off watering trough, a salt box or in the entrance to a resting area, says Newton.

Commercial, ready-filled bags can be purchased from livestock supply outlets or they can be inexpensively made. All that is needed are a few medium to fine mesh burlap bags to hold the dust, some hardware, including hooks on which to hang the bags, and a few grommets to serve as hook eyes.

A roof to protect the device from rainy weather is strongly recommended, Newton suggests using double strength burlap by placing one bag within another to better hold the dust.

Stock each double-layer bag with 5 to 10 pounds of the selected insecticide and hang them in pairs in such a way the animals will be forced to walk between the pair.

For best results, Newton says the bags should overlap each other by four to six inches. The bottoms should be about 18 inches from the ground for small cattle and 24 inches for the larger breeds.

Each time an animal walks through the self-applicator it will brush its head, neck shoulders and back against the bags and pick up enough of the insecticide to keep the horn flies under control.

Weekly maintenance is suggested.

Richter To Graduate As Veterinarian From A&M College

Johnnie Ray Richter of Cameron is among the record 125 veterinary medicine students scheduled to graduate August 7 from Texas A&M University.

Richter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Richter Route 1, will receive his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree at 7:30 p.m. ceremonies in the Bryan Civic Auditorium.

Included in the largest class ever to graduate from the college are six coeds.

Early Summer Is Jam & Jelly Time

Jelly, jam conserve, marmalade and preserves can all add zest to meals. Most of them also provide a good way to use fruit not at its best for canning or freezing, such as the largest or smallest fruits and berries and those that are irregularly shaped, Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, notes.

"Surprise your family with a batch of sparkling, colorful jellies, jams or preserves," Mrs. Clyatt suggests. "You can make good use of fresh fruits now available and others coming to the market soon."

Basically all of these products are much alike; all of them are fruit preserved by means of sugar, and usually all are jellied to some extent, Mrs. Clyatt said. Their individual characteristics depend on the kind of fruit used and the way it is prepared, the proportions of different ingredients in the mixture and the method of cooking, she noted.

Many have asked what the differences are among preserved fruit products.

"Jelly is made from fruit juice; the product is clear and firm enough to hold its shape when turned out of the container," she said. "Jam, made from crushed or ground fruit, tends to hold its shape but generally is less firm than jelly."

"Conserves are jams made from a mixture of fruits, usually including citrus fruit; often raisins and nuts are added."

"Marmalade is a tender jelly with small pieces of fruit distributed evenly throughout; a marmalade commonly contains citrus fruit."

"Preserves are whole fruits or large pieces of fruit in a thick syrup, often slightly jellied."

Pectin, acid and sugar form the jelly trio.

"Pectin is the natural substance found in fruits which makes the jelly 'jel'," Mrs. Clyatt said. "The amount varies in different kinds of fruits, and to take the guesswork out of present-day jelly making, natural pectin is carefully extracted from apples or the skins of citrus fruits, refined, concentrated and standardized in specific jelling strength."

"The two commercial forms are liquid fruit pectin and powdered fruit pectin. These differ slightly in composition and can't be used interchangeably. Powdered fruit pectin won't dissolve in high sugar concentration and must be added to the fruit before the sugar. Liquid fruit pectin, on the other hand, must be added last of all, after the fruit and sugar have boiled."

Acid is needed for flavor and for gel formation, Mrs. Clyatt said. The acid content varies in different fruits and is higher in underripe than in fully ripe fruits she noted. With fruits that are low in acid, lemon juice or citric acid is commonly added in making jellied products, Mrs. Clyatt explained.

Sugar helps in gel formation, serves as a preserving agent, and contributes to the flavor of the jellied product," she said. "It also has a firming effect on fruit, a property that is useful in making preserves.

"Because we can't calculate accurately the fruit's content of sugar and pectin, standardized recipes are essential. Guesswork is foolhardy and can be costly; it's best to select recipes from reliable sources and follow instructions to the letter."

Experiment a bit by adding flavorful herbs and spices to jams and jellies or substitute flaked coconut in conserves for the nuts called for in the recipe, but never change the specified amounts of sugar, prepared fruit, and fruit pectin, Mrs. Clyatt warned.

AWARDED STILES SCHOLARSHIP -- Wayne A. Psencik of Route 1 in Rogers, received a $500 scholarship from the Stiles Farm Foundation at its Eighth Annual Field Day June 16 at Thrall. The awards are given annually to outstanding high school graduates who plan

Affluent Forty-Fivers

Americans over 45 years of age spend some 50% of U.S. dollars. They have greater income available for discretionary spending since children no longer live at home and the mortgage is eliminated or reduced. This group travels more, lives better and purchases higher quality products.

The group joined 4-H'ers from a five-county area for square and folk dancing along with guests and folk dancing along with games and other activities.

The Fun Nights were started about a year ago and have grown in attendance and enthusiasm. All those who have attended express a great desire to continue the activity and encourage more 4-H'ers to attend.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Fred Schuetze

The Milam County 4-H Day Camp was held Saturday, June 20 at Simon George Hall and Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron.

Registration and flag raising ceremonies opened the day's activities at 9 a.m.

Junior club members worked in arts and crafts while seniors worked on posts to be used for erecting 4-H road signs on highways entering Milam County.

After a sack lunch at noon, several films on 4-H were shown. At 3 p.m., the group enjoyed watermelon and then played baseball, four - square ball, horseshoes, and volley ball.

Evening ceremonies at 5 featured awards given to the top beginner and junior boy and girl at camp and to the top junior leaders.

They were: Beginners - Debra Fleming and Daniel McDaniel, Countywide; junior - Donna Jo Crenan of Burlington and Ricky Richter of St. Anthony; junior leaders - Paula Fleming, Melvin Hollas, Wayne and Clyde Jistel, Joseph Jistel, all of Countywide; Naomi Brown, Viola, Rufus, and Richard Lamere and Connie Cone, Minerva; Judy and Jane Helpert, Carolyn Helpert, of Burlington; Peggy and Deborah Stephens, Cathy Garza, Josi Garza, of Rockdale and David Ehler of St. Anthony. All 4-H'ers received participation ribbons.

Barbecue was served at 7 p.m. with 98 members, adult leaders, parents and guests present. The barbecued chicken was prepared by Joe Mueck and Herman Ripkoski who help the 4-H'ers each year. I would like to thank them for their time and help.

The final part of the camp was held at Methodist Fellowship Hall with Mark Towery and his square dance group from Thorn-dale who led the square dancing.

COUNTY FUN NIGHT

On Friday night, June 19, 24 4-H'ers, adult leaders and the Assistant County Agent attended the sixth bi-monthly fun night held at the Pavilion on Lake Belton.

Ag Committee Approves Import, Inspection Bills

The House Committee on Agriculture approved seven bills last week, including one to provide protection to consumers of imported foods from any adverse effects from the use of pesticides and other chemicals in the production of crops.

Introduced by Committee Chairman W. R. Poage, the bill (H. R. 15360) would prohibit imports of foods from any country unless the President has determined that such country enforces anti - pesticide restrictions at least equal to those applicable here in the United States.

Referring to restrictions imposed by the Department of Agriculture on American farmers, Poage in commenting on the pending legislation said:

"It would be illogical and unacceptable to provide consumers with only partial protection from whatever dangers may be inherent in using certain pesticides."

One of the approved bills (S. 3592) would amend the Meat Inspection Act so as to exempt purely custom slaughtering operations in those plants which also buy and sell inspected meats which have been processed elsewhere in inspected facilities.

At present, custom slaughterers are exempt only if they do not themselves engage in buying and selling meat or meat products.

Affected by the pending legislation are hundreds of small slaughtering and locker plants throughout the country which not only do custom work for individuals bringing in livestock for processing, but who also retail meat products. Under the new measure these plants would be required to segregate these activities and plainly identify as "not for sale" the articles handled on a custom basis.

While the custom slaughtering operations would not be subject to federal inspection, the entire plant would have to be maintained and operated in a sanitary manner under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Marketing Study To Begin Today

WASHINGTON, D.C.
Rep. Thomas S. Foley (D-Wash.), Chairman of the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Domestic Marketing and Consumer Relations, today said his subcommittee will inaugurate a continuing study of the food marketing industry.

Responding to a request from full committee Chairman W. R. Poage, Foley said the subcommittee plans to conduct a thorough and continuing review of the nation's food marketing structure.

The subcommittee will begin with a study of what impediments may exist to the flow of agricultural commodities from the farm to the consumer.

Public hearings are scheduled to begin on Thursday, June 25, at which time both experts and industry representatives will be invited to appear before the subcommittee to discuss the background of and developments on industry's acceptance or refusal to merchandise a particular commodity.

The subcommittee plans to consider possible legislative proposals in this area after completing its hearings and study.

Later hearings on this subject are also anticipated at which time other witnesses will be afforded an opportunity to participate.

An experimental campus radio station, 1 XE, began the world's first scheduled daily broadcasts in 1920, and later became radio station WGI, according to Tufts University records.

Solid Waste Disposal Meeting Set

The Milam County Rural Development meeting scheduled for Friday, June 26, will feature a discussion of solid waste disposal, according to County Agent J. D. Moore.

Speaker at the meeting will be Jimmie Dickens, R.S., representing the State Department of Health at Austin.

The meeting will be at 2 p.m. in the conference room of the Rockdale State Bank.

The subject of soil waste disposal is of increasing importance, Moore said, and all those in positions of leadership should attend.

Livestock producers with as many as 50 feeder hogs or this animal unit equivalent should attend the meeting.

Texas Power & Light Company Industrial Consultants have good news for site-seeking industry executives about the 51-county area of Texas served by TP&L.

In cooperation with local and area Chambers of Commerce and other organizations, TP&L Industrial Consultants provide industry prospects with pertinent information on transportation, taxes, utilities, labor supply, plant sites and other influencing factors.

New industries bring new job opportunities;

payroll dollars for homes, goods and services; tax dollars for schools, libraries, parks and streets; and other benefits for the cities and towns in which they locate. During 1969, more than 80 industries chose plant locations in "TP&L Territory."

Group To Study Region Planning Organizations

Judge Norman C. Storm, President of the Central Texas Council of Governments, has appointed an eight member committee to study and evaluate CTCOG's relation to other planning and development organizations in the Central Texas Planning Region.

Presently there are two organizations in addition to the Central Texas Council of Governments charged with planning and development responsibilities in the 12 county Central Texas State Planning Region defined by the Governor's Office.

ered at Texas State Technical Institute in Waco, serves all 12 of the aforementioned counties in a different capacity.

The Central Texas Economic Development District, under the guidelines of the Economic Development Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, encourages and assists in the development of the general economy of the 12 county area.

Its activities are funded through Federal grants and loans to enterprises which will improve business, employment and industrial capability for the area.

At the last meeting of the Executive Committee of the Central Texas Economic Development District, a similar committee was appointed to study its relationship to the two Council of Governments and Judge Storm, president of the CTCOG was notified of the action by a letter dated June 1, 1970.

Though the Councils of Governments' work is oriented to assistance and implementation of State and Federal programs through local governments and the Economic Development District leans toward the expansion of private business to improve the area, both agencies have recently expressed a desire to more closely coordinate their activities.

Such coordination where possible would greatly enhance the benefits each can provide, according to the officials.

Small Named Chairman For USO In Cameron

Jack Small, Highway Maintenance Department, has been named Chairman of the local USO for Cameron.

General West, Texas State Chairman of USO, stated "We have reorganized the Texas State Council to secure a more permanent organization and to better serve the communities of Texas and Local Community USO Chairmen in more effective communication to the communities and United Funds and Community Chests."

"We need more effective methods of telling the USO story

These communities are: Bremond, Brenham, Bryan, Cameron, College Station, Huntsville, Navasota, Normangee, and Rockdale.

"Though peace negotiations have been going on for some time," General West stated, "USO is still doing business 'as usual' in the Vietnam and Thailand areas without any appreciable change in volume. There is very little to indicate that USO will not be needed just as much in these areas for some time to come."

"American GIs are our sons, daughters, grandsons, the kid next door, or the boy in the next block, USO serves these men and women wherever they go. USO has a total of 63 operations overseas and 136 in continental US. Additionally, USO Shows perform to almost 7 million service personnel overseas each year," he added.

General West further emphasized that USO is a permanent organization whose only purpose is to serve the morale, educational welfare needs of the servicemen and women.

It is civilian controlled, non-political, representative of the three great faiths and does not receive tax money. USO is supported entirely through the voluntary contributions of the American people, primarily through Community Chests and United Funds.

USO is a member agency of the Cameron United Fund.

MRS. JOHNNY J. YATES JR.

Rockdale Ceremony Unites Lewis - Yates

St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Rockdale was the setting for the May 30 marriage of Miss Linda Dale Lewis and Johnny J. Yates Jr.

The Rev. Paul McCallum officiated at the nuptial mass, Mrs. Joe Morgan and Mrs. Marie Matthews provided wedding music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lewis of Rockdale. Mr. Yates is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny J. Yates Sr. of Maysfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie fashioned with a square neckline and traditional pointed sleeves and waistline. White lace appliques with seed pearls and sequins trimmed the gown and chapel length train. A cluster of seed pearls and sequins held her bridal veil.

She carried a bouquet of daisies centered with a white orchid and wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom's parents.

Mrs. Jan Ellis of Rockdale was matron of honor. Her lime green peau de soie gown was styled with a high neckline, lace puff sleeves and train. She wore daisies with ribbon streamers in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ginger Hill and Mrs. Faye Henderson, both of Austin, and Miss Sharon Singletary of Leesville, La. They wore yellow gowns with daisies accenting the empire waistline and high neck and double daisy chains in their hair.

Miss Bobbie Herring of Rockdale was flower girl. Her dress was identical to the attendants'. All the bride's attendants carried baskets of daisies and tulle. Ringbearer was Kenny Rae of Rockdale. Bob Yates served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Dwayne Jekel of Granbury, Mike Henderson of Austin, and Jay Patzke of Freeport.

Jimmy Wayne Ellis and Don Thode of Rockdale were ushers. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lewis chose green antique satin. The groom's mother wore a pink double knit and both wore orchid corsages.

Daisies decorated the church hall for the reception following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with white lace over yellow and was centered with a three-tiered cake decorated with yellow roses and hearts.

The groom's table was covered with off-white lace over lime green and held the chocolate groom's cake. Serving guests were Mrs. Don Thode, Mrs. Brenda Rae, and Miss Barbara Little.

Miss Jeanie Paris of Rockdale registered guests. Other members of the houseparty were Miss Renee Jackson, Miss Debbie Love, Miss Rosemary Cumbe and Miss Dorothy Yates.

Broiler Lunch

For a quick luncheon dish that is out of the ordinary, cut luncheon meat in 1-inch cubes and alternate with 1-inch slices of banana on small skewers. Place on rack of broiling pan, 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Broil until golden brown, turning once. Split round hamburger buns and toast in broiler at the same time. Serve a cabbage salad and milk.

The meat and vegetable rolls need cook only 45 to 60 minutes because of veal's natural tenderness, according to Reba Staggs, home economist for the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Veal and Spinach Rolls
2 veal round steaks, cut 1/2 inch thick
1/2 slices bacon, diced
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 cups chopped raw spinach
1/2 cup cooked rice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon marjoram
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1/4 cup water

Cut veal into 6 serving-sized pieces and pound to about 1/4-inch thickness. Cook bacon with onion until lightly browned. Add spinach, rice, salt, garlic salt, pepper, marjoram and nutmeg. Stir over low heat until spinach is slightly wilted. Place approximately 2 tablespoons spinach stuffing on each piece of meat. Roll as a jelly roll and fasten with wooden picks. Brown meat slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Combine tomato sauce and water and add to veal. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 to 60 minutes or until done, 6 servings.

Parker

John Frank Parker, 75, died Friday morning after a long illness at his home at Route 3, Cameron.

Mr. Parker was born November 24, 1894 in Rockdale. He was a retired farmer and a veteran of World War I. He had lived here for the past 45 years.

Funeral service was held at 3 p.m. Sunday at Marek-Burns Funeral Home, the Rev. Homer Humphrey officiating. Burial was in the Salty Cemetery near Cameron.

Survivors include several cousins.

"Meat Insurance"

For inexpensive holiday dinner insurance buy a meat thermometer to eliminate the guesswork when roasting beef, pork or lamb. Simply insert a roast meat thermometer so the bulb is centered, making sure that it touches neither bone nor fat. If the roast is to "set" before being carved (recommended for easier carving), remove the meat from the oven when the thermometer registers an internal temperature approximately 5°F. below the temperature designating desired degree of doneness.

With allotment crop acreages now being certified, producers with an interest in more than one farm should bear in mind the need for compliance on each farm.

This means that if someone is participating in the wheat, feed grain or cotton program on his farm, and has an interest in a second farm, he must stay within his allotment or base for each crop on that second farm, even if it is not signed up to participate in the program.

If he does not, he will be out of compliance and lose program benefits on all allotment crops on his participating farm.

Responsibility for making certain that the offsetting compliance requirement is met falls on the producer rather than the landowner, if they are different people. The producer has the responsibility for offsetting compliance.

Offsetting compliance is subject to check and this requirement goes across both county and State lines. For this reason this reminder, issued at this time, would be a helpful hint to farmers who might need to think about their compliance with programs in which they are signed up.

Time is running out for producers who have not certified to their 1970 program acreage. July 1 is the final date for reporting acreage to the Milam County ASCS Office.

For Teachers... Work, Pay Changes Told

AUSTIN

Texas public school teachers -- those on the state minimum salary schedule -- will receive pay raises averaging about $1,050 per year in 1970-71.

Students will go to school -- and teachers will teach -- an extra five days (180 days instead of 175). In addition, teachers will be on duty for 10 more days of non-teaching work during the year, and will be paid on a 10-month basis, instead of nine.

These changes in the school year and the basis for figuring teacher pay result from amendments to the minimum foundation program law passed in 1969 by the Legislature.

Under the minimum program, a beginning bachelor's degree teacher in 1969-70 was paid $593 per month for nine months, or $5,337 for the year.

In 1970-71, a beginning bachelor's degree teacher will receive $600 per month for 10 months, or $6,000 for the year.

Many Texas school systems pay their teachers more than the state-required minimum salaries.

Texas was ranked 38th among states in average teacher pay in 1969-70. The 1970 raises and a long-range improvement plan are expected to move Texas up to a more favorable position among states in the years ahead.

The new law puts into effect in 1971-72 a continuing compensation plan which will give Texas teachers an additional five percent raise each year and cost-of-living raises in 1974 and 1978. It will allow all Texas teachers to reach the top of the pay schedule -- $11,040 for bachelor's degree, and $12,040 for master's degree teachers -- within 10 years of service.

The new law has left many people -- teachers as well as school patrons -- with questions about its work and pay aspects.

The State Board of Education has attempted to answer such questions by drafting an official definition of the 180-day school term and service requirements for teachers in 1970-71 and future years.

Basically, the state board says that beginning on September 1, 1970:

--Texas public schools will have 180 days of actual classroom instruction, (where teachers and students are together in learning situations) instead of the 175 days previously required under foundation program law. (Some schools had already been operating programs longer than the minimum.)

--Most Texas teachers will be paid on a 10-month basis. (Vocational and special education teachers may be paid for 10, 11, or 12 months.)

--In addition to the 180 days of classroom instruction, teachers and other personnel previously authorized for less than 10 months under the foundation program shall be required to be on duty for an additional 10 days, making a total of 190 days, exclusive of holidays approved by the local board of trustees.

--School districts may employ teachers for more than the specified 190 days, but if they do their salaries for work beyond the 190 days must be paid wholly from local funds rather than foundation program funds.

'Smile Girl' Contest On

Entry forms for the 1970 Heart O' Texas Fair Smile Girl contest are available at The Cameron Herald office.

Girls entering will be judged on charm, poise, personality and photogenic smile at a contest in early August.

Several winners in that contest will qualify for the finals to be held at the annual Heart O' Texas Fair and Rodeo Press Party in Waco later in August.

Eligible to compete are single girls who are 16, 17, 18, 19 or 20; attend school or live in a town or community within 90 miles of Waco and were not chosen one of the winners of a previous Heart O' Texas Fair "Smile Girl" contest.

Fair "Smile Girls" ride in the downtown parade, attend a press party for the rodeo guest star, get two reserved seat tickets to attend the rodeo and make several appearances on television and radio programs and at luncheon clubs.

Crime Legislation Stalled In Congress, Says Bush

Congressional inaction is holding back passage of vital crime legislation, according to Rep. George Bush, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate.

At a press conference June 16, Bush enumerated anti-crime bills that have not been acted on by Congress. "It is a situation which I think should give every Texan cause for concern," he said.

"Last year there were an estimated 400,000 major crimes committed in Texas. And major crime as a whole rose 73.1 per cent in this state during the 60s," Bush said.

"A major and innovative program for combating crime in America has been proposed by the Nixon Administration," he said. "It protects the individual's rights, but it also gives law enforcement officials added tools in the war on crime. Unfortunately, the Congress has not seen fit to act on this legislation."

"In spite of the severity of this problem, not one of the some 20 crime bills sent to Congress by the President has reached his desk for signing into law, although most of it was introduced in 1969," Bush said.

"Surely the safety and security of the person and property of our citizens is not a partisan, political matter."

"Such a major and vital piece of legislation as the Controlled Dangerous Substances Act of 1969, dealing with control of drugs, most often credited with being the major cause of the burgeoning crime rate, still has not had hearings in the House, although it was submitted to Congress in July, 1969, and passed the Senate in January, 1970.

"The Organized Crime Control Act of 1969, dealing with the growing complexity of organized crime, is just now receiving hearings in the House Judiciary Subcommittee, although it was introduced last year and passed the Senate in January, 1970.

"Other bills," Bush said, "dealing with protection of minors from obscene materials, banning prurient advertising, amendments to the Omnibus Crime Control Act (the authorization of which expires June 30 of this year), and my own bills revitalizing our prison system and dealing with illegal transportation of explosives in interstate commerce, aimed at terrorist bombings, are all bogged down in various states of the legislative process."

"For many of these, the chances of passage in this session of Congress are now poor at best."

BLS Report Examines Employment Situation

WASHINGTON

The recent slowdown in growth of the number of jobs and the sharp rise in unemployment have fallen very unevenly on industrial sectors, labor force groups, and geographic areas, according to a report just published by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Highest hit was the durable goods sector, particularly the aerospace and defense-related segment. The workers most affected initially have been those employed in relatively high-skilled jobs rather than those at the bottom of the occupational ladder.

The jobless rate for Negroes, who have never been employed in large numbers in some of the hardest hit industries, has risen at a less rapid pace than the jobless rate for whites. Because of the regional concentration of the affected industries, the Pacific Coast and the Midwest have experienced the sharpest increases in unemployment.

Manufacturing employment, which had continued to expand in the early part of 1969, leveled off in midyear and has declined rapidly since last fall.

Between July 1969 and May 1970, factory employment declined nearly 700,000 with the drop initially confined to the durable goods industries but now beginning to affect the nondurable sector as well.

In the other goods-producing sectors of the economy, mining, construction, and agriculture, employment has remained at a virtual standstill since last fall.

In the service-producing sector of the economy, employment continued to grow throughout all of 1969 and did not begin to taper off until the first few months of 1970. Since February, however, there has been little or no employment growth in this sector.

Employment in the ordnance and aircraft industries has been tapering off since late 1968 and has declined at a particularly rapid pace since mid-1969. Between July 1969 and May 1970, ordnance employment (seasonally adjusted) dropped by 70,000 or one-fifth, while aircraft employment declined about 110,000 or 13 percent.

Together, these two industries, which make up only about 1/20 of total manufacturing employment, have accounted for about one-fourth of the recent decline in factory jobs.

Employment in service-producing industries (transportation and utilities, trade, finance, services, and government) continued to grow during the July 1969-May 1970 period, rising by about 1.2 million.

Even in this sector, however, the employment gains posted since December have become progressively more moderate in size and appear to be largely of a part-time nature.

Since February, the only substantial gains in employment in the entire service-producing sector have occurred in government, where over 150,000 workers have been hired on a temporary basis to assist with the 1970 Census.

Since the bulk of the recent employment cutbacks have occurred in the durable goods sector, largely a male bastion, it is not too surprising that the sharpest increases in unemployment during this period have also occurred among adult men. Of the 1.3 million increase in the number of unemployed between December and May, about 600,000 have been men 20 years of age and over.

Jobs losses among women and teenagers, who are not employed in large numbers in durable goods manufacturing, has so far increased somewhat less rapidly. During the December 1969-May 1970 period, unemployment among adult women increased by 400,000 and teenage unemployment rose by 200,000.

Gause

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones, Cheryl, Nancy, Sandra and Buster of Trinity spent some time with her sister and family, the H. B. Alexanders and Margie Nan June 14th. Last Monday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Homer Collier of Hearne visited the Alexanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Johnson and children of Douglas visited relatives over the weekend. A group of young people and adults from the Baptist church spent Saturday at Six Flags Over Texas. All report having a good time even though they had a harder time getting home than getting to Six Flags. It seems Bro. Walston was going to lead the way, and some how he managed to get lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ray Mitchell and children of Freeport spent the weekend here with Mrs. Ethel Mitchell.

Mrs. Eric Cunningham is home after a week's visit in Jalisco, N. M. with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart.

Visitors last week with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lagrone and children were Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Lagrone and Michelle of Beaumont, Mrs. Carmon Lagrone of Austin. Sunday they all attended the Lagrone reunion at the home of Mrs. Sonny Lagrone in Milano.

Last week visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Roper included Mrs. Effie Bolin and Miss Kay Roper of Dallas, David White of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roberts, Linda, Dennis, Mark and Scott of Tulsa, Cal., and Rev. and Mrs. Wendell Dunn and Tammy of Killen.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walker were in Houston the latter part of last week to visit Mr. Herbert Walker Sr. who recently had surgery at M. D. Anderson Hospital, and where now he is having medical treatment. Mrs. Herbert Walker Sr. returned home from Houston Saturday, after being down there with Mr. Walker. Their grandson, Mark Dibble returned to Gause with his grandmother for a visit this week.

Mr. Roy Crouch is a patient in M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston where he recently had surgery.

Bouillon a Boon

Beef bouillon from can or cube is a boon for the bride as well as the experienced cook. It can be used to advantage in the preparation of gravies, oriental dishes, beef stroganoff or meat balls. Bouillon also makes an excellent braising liquid for pot-roasts.

Spicy Boil

Quick, easy and nutritious! That's a tangy main dish of sliced beef liver spread with chili sauce. It boils in minutes to tender doneness. A 3 1/2-ounce serving, supplying only about 210 calories, provides more than a day's requirement of vitamin A and iron. Liver is one of the best sources of these two nutrients.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

The season of fishing and boating enthusiasm is now in full swing. But those enjoyable occasions out at the lake or stream could turn into catastrophe unless a few simple rules are followed. The Texas State Department of Health reminds you that a safe summer of excitement and fun is in your hands.

All fishermen -- experts and novices alike -- should know how to swim, should know basic first aid, and have a first aid kit with them.

Since fish hooks sometimes "catch" anglers as well as fish, carry needle-nose pliers, wire cutters, and pocket knife in your tackle box. Always keep hooks in covered containers.

Always look before casting, and make certain you have room to do so without hooking someone else. Use an overhead case when in a boat with others. It's much safer to fish with a companion, but when fishing alone, always leave word where you will be and when you plan to return.

Wear thick-soled boots in densely wooded or marshy areas. Do not wear waders while in a boat. Wade cautiously to avoid slipping on unseen rocks or stepping suddenly into deep water. Stay in open areas.

Avoid swimmers, water skiers, and skin and scuba divers. Learn how to hold a fish properly while extracting a hook. Many species have sharp teeth or fins that can cause deep hand wounds. All water skiers should know

Never overload the boat, and always insist that all passengers wear life preservers. If the boat overturns, stay with the boat -- it will float. Keep a level head and practice the most important rule of them all -- use common sense.

Coal supplies about one-fifth of the power and heat used in the United States.

Tina and Brenda Casper of Grapevine are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Jim Hawk. Mrs. Elsie Schuetz of Temple visited Mr. and Mrs. Elo Chollett on Sunday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ed Kinsey also of Temple who visited her sister, Mrs. Ed McAtee in Rosebud.

Mrs. Robert Padgett and her grandchildren Shelia, Shawn and Dwayne Becker of Houston were over night guests of Mrs. J. A. Blasienz recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Starnes of Cameron visited in the Walter Kohring home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ernst visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ernst in Rosebud on Father's Day, and with her mother Mrs. Frank Janicek in Cameron and Mrs. Lizzie Ernst of Barclay recently.

Beefy Chili

For a quick dish to utilize cooked beef, take off on chili. Cube the meat and heat with tomato sauce and onions. Add chili powder to taste. Kidney beans drained and included at the end need just be heated through.

Steer All Steak?

A steer is not all steak! The 590-pound carcass weight of a 1,000-pound steer will yield only 140 pounds of steak, or 23.7 percent. Roasts will make up 170 pounds; ground beef and stew meat, 155 pounds; bones, fat and water, 125 pounds.

Jones Prairie News

By Mrs. Bill Thweatt

Mrs. Nona Miller honored the following guests with a barbecue supper and camp out on the river Saturday night, the Ralph Phipps family of Bossier City, La., the Lee Patillos of Houston, Mr. and

Mrs. W. C. Phipps and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis and son of Midlotian, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Phipps and son, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Phipps and son of Austin, the Billy Thweatt family of Georgetown, Mrs. Bill Thweatt and Rock Thweatt, Hill

Culpepper of Cameron, the Roy Patzke family, Mr. and Mrs. Amiel Patzke, Mr. Frank Weise, Buddy Miller and Jody Drane of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shluter of Austin, Mrs. Louise Wise, Miss Sue Ida Smith and Mrs. Roy Newton visited Mrs. Bill Thweatt Thursday afternoon. They enjoyed playing 42 all afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Phipps and son of Austin visited the

Walter Senkels Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hetzel Burnett and his three grandchildren of Houston spent Sunday with Mrs. Mildred Martin. Patricia Florida is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Verne Pentecost. Mr. Hope Jamison Jr. of Angleton spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hope Jamison Sr. Visitors in the Walter Senkel home last week were: Mrs. Minnie Houff of Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Stobner of Burlington and Mr. Author Long of Houston. Rev. and Mrs. Bill Elder were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Todd. Ladybugs move their wings from 75 to 91 times a second.

War on Waste

A dab of uncooked ground beef can be put to good use. Just brown it in a frying-pan and toss with shredded Cheddar, Swiss or Mozzarella cheese until the cheese melts. It makes a tasty breakfast, lunch or supper item plain, on a toasted bun or between bread slices.

Salad Shorts

Any leftover ham, pork, beef or veal roast is great for salads. Just cut into julienne strips and mix with vegetables or fruits. Tossed with a complementary dressing, the salad is a nutritious and filling lunch or supper main dish.

Food to Fool

Fool the family this April 1 with surprise beefburgers. Tuck something different into each patty for extra fun at the lunch or supper table. Hide in burgers a chunk of Cheddar cheese, spoonful of corn or pickle relish or a pocket of chopped olives or onion.
